Description: Roy McMakin's exceptionally crafted pieces, produced in his Seattle studio, offer a twist on the vernacular of American domestic furniture. With this Caudal stool, the artist calls attention to the form's simple function by carving the imprint of two back-to-back "seats" on the stool.

This stool is available in a variety of custom woods and finishes, as well as the four variations of Claro walnut as shown above. Please allow 10 -12 weeks for fabrication.

Each piece is signed and dated.
